

REPORT FROM 2nd PROJECT MEETING IN BOSA, SARDINIA, ITALY
FRIDAY 25th AND SATURDAY 26th MARCH 2022

On Friday morning at 8:25 a.m. my host Salvatore and I were picked up by our friends and we went, as every day, to a café called Daisy, where we all had breakfast. After breakfast, we rushed to the bus that was waiting at the local school to take us on a trip to the town of Alghero. On the way, after about 10 km, the bus broke down and we stopped on the side of the road. We got off and found that there was a path to a beautiful beach. There were 2 paths, 1 kind of on the rock and the other normal. Of course, me and some friends tried the rock one first. We figured it didn't lead anywhere, so we climbed back up. The other one led to the beach. It was beautiful. My friend and I climbed there and took some pictures.

The driver fixed the bus up a bit, we got slowly on and went to another bus, which came for us, and it took us to Alghero. When we arrived we were each given a bag that contained our lunch, chicken schnitzel in a bun. We took our backpacks and went to explore the city with our Italian hosts. It was an old fort with walls all around, cannons and towers. We were shown around town by the Italians, we bought sweets at a shop I had never seen in the Czech Republic. The principle was that you put a few sweets in a bag and the cost depends on the weight of your bag (100 grams = 5 euros). After buying the sweets, we parted ways with the Italians and went with our friends to explore the city on our own. We walked by the beach for a while, but then we were tired, so we sat down and waited until, we could get on the bus.

The journey back was quite boring, so I leaned against the window and tried to sleep. When we got back, we hurriedly went to each other's houses. Then my friends picked me and my host up and we went to a pizza place for dinner. After dinner we went to sit by the river for a while, where we said goodbye to the Spanish and everyone went home to sleep.

Saturday was the departure day, so

I got up, packed up and headed to the taxi. We said good bye to our Italian hosts and drove off towards the nearest airport, which is based in Alghero for about an hour. On the way we discussed very interesting topics such as :

“Why is the sea blue when the water is transparent?” Upon arrival, we just waited for a while and then boarded the plane. We left around 1 p.m. and arrived around 3 p.m. in Brussels, the capital of Belgium.

Where we had to wait until 7 p.m. for our flight to Vienna. After arriving in the Austrian capital, we got into a minibus that took us to Brno. Our parents were waiting to pick us there and we each went to our own homes. This was the end of the Erasmus adventure to Bosa in Sardinia.
